AssetBook ARO Manager

The reliable way to balance risk with reward

When our company initially looked at ARO Manager, there seemed to be a few features that were missing. But after discussing those features with the Support and Development team, those missing elements were quickly implemented, and we decided to purchase and have never looked back.

Moving from our spreadsheet to ARO Manager has allowed us to update our calculations more quickly and efficiently. After running concurrent for a short period of time to confirm the calculations matched, we have stopped using our spreadsheet, and rely solely on ARO Manager for tracking our Asset Retirement Obligations.

The efficiency of using ARO Manager vs an Excel worksheet has equated to the work of almost a full-time person for at least one month and has eliminated many formula-based errors in calculations. The XI people are responsive to ideas for updates and new features, and support is always available and helpful.
